

International Statistical Classification of Diseases and Related Health Problems (ICD), International Classification of Functioning Disability and Health (ICF), International Classification of Health Interventions (ICHI)

Digital Version

Terms of Use and License Agreement

The International Statistical Classification of Diseases and Related Health Problems (“ICD”) , International Classification of Functioning Disability and Health (“ICF”), and the International Classification of Health Interventions (“ICHI”) are referred to in this document as the “Classifications”.

The World Health Organization (“WHO”) has developed and retains all rights in the Classifications and the Classifications Software (as defined below, and together with the Classifications in their digital form, the “Classifications Suite”), all of which are © WHO 2020. Some rights reserved.

This Agreement governs your use of the Classifications and the Classifications Software, including, if applicable, integration of it in your Third-party software.

Please read these Terms of Use and License Agreement (the “Agreement”) carefully before installing and using the Classifications Software.

By installing and/or using the Classifications Software, you (the “Licensee”) enter into an agreement with WHO and you accept all the terms, conditions, and requirements of the Agreement.

1. Copyright and License for ICD-11, ICF and ICHI

- 1.1. Classifications definition. The digital version of the Classifications provided through this online / digital platform includes, without limitation, the following components: the alphanumeric codes, uniform resource identifiers (URIs), descriptions, nomenclature, terminology, lists and indexes, the foundation with all entities and their relationships, any linked coding scheme or linearization, instructions for postcoordination, logical definitions, the content model, in particular with textual descriptions, definitions, diagnostic criteria, or diagnostic and treatment guidelines and the derived hierarchies (linearizations) for specific uses, all content that is listed in its chapters, sections and in the extension codes, in particular INN, ATC, devices, histopathology of tumours and health status measurement instruments, including the WHO Disability Assessment Schedule 2.0. (WHO DAS 2.0), and the Reference guide with its annexes and forms.
- 1.2. Classifications License. The Classifications are licensed under the Creative Commons Attribution-NoDerivs 3.0 IGO license (CC BY-ND 3.0 IGO, or the “Classifications License”, available at <https://creativecommons.org/licenses/by-nd/3.0/igo/>. Under the terms of the License, you are NOT permitted to make “adaptations” of the Classifications, as defined in the License. In that regard, and without otherwise limiting the terms of the Classifications License, WHO provides the following clarifications:

- 1.2.1. To prevent the dilution of the Classifications' purpose to provide a definitive standard for identifying health information, neither the Licensed Materials, nor any portion thereof, may be used for the purpose of developing or promulgating a different standard.
 - 1.2.2. WHO does not consider incorporation of the Classifications into a software product to be an "adaptation", provided that you do not do any of the following:
 - a. Reproduce or remodelling the Classifications in part or whole and distribute it under a different name or without attribution;
 - b. Reproduce and distribute the Classifications in part or whole without the Classifications' codes;
 - c. Reproduce the Classifications in part or a whole without the Classifications URIs; or
 - d. Reproduce and distribute Classifications, in part or whole, with any combination of a-c above.
 - 1.2.3. Incorporation of Classifications into a software product, in data transmission and storage must include Classifications code, title and URI.
 - 1.2.4. Mapping or producing crosswalks between other classifications and terminologies and Classifications and producing translations are not covered by the Classifications License and are subject to a separate written agreement from WHO.
 - 1.2.5. Adding data fields to Classifications concepts is permitted if such additions are clearly identified as additions that do not originate from WHO.
- 1.3. Any mention of Classifications in published reports should include the following citation of the source:
- ICD-11 Citation : International Classification of Diseases, Eleventh Revision (ICD-11), World Health Organization (WHO) 2019 <https://icd.who.int/browse11>. Licensed under the Creative Commons Attribution-NoDerivatives 3.0 IGO licence \(CC BY-ND 3.0 IGO\).
- ICF Citation : International Classification of Functioning, Disability and Health (ICF), World Health Organization (WHO) 2001. Licensed under the Creative Commons Attribution-NoDerivatives 3.0 IGO licence \(CC BY-ND 3.0 IGO\).
- ICHI Citation : International Classification of Health Interventions (ICHI), World Health Organization (WHO) draft 2021. Licensed under the Creative Commons Attribution-NoDerivatives 3.0 IGO licence \(CC BY-ND 3.0 IGO\).
- 1.4. Classifications suggestions. Suggestions for changes to the Classifications must be submitted as a proposal to the ICD-11 update platform.

2. Copyright and license for the Classifications Software

- 2.1. Definition. In addition to the Classifications as defined above, the following additional products and materials are related to the Classifications website and user experience:
- ICD-API: this is the HTTP-based REST and FHIR API, hosted by WHO, which allows programmatic access to all the Classifications and Terminologies mentioned above.
 - Locally deployable versions of the ICD-API: this is the Classifications-API provided in a format that can be installed on local computers.

- Embedded Classification Tool: this is a software component that allows integration of complete Classifications Coding Tools into any-web based software.

The above three software are referred to here as the ("Classifications Software").

- 2.2. Copyright for the Classifications Software. WHO has developed and retains all rights in the Classifications Software. The Software is copyright (©) World Health Organization, 2020, and is distributed under the terms of this Agreement. All rights not granted herein are reserved by WHO.
- 2.3. Grant of License. WHO hereby grants a non-exclusive, non-transferable and non-assignable royalty-free license to use and incorporate the Classifications Software in computer applications or systems (the "Software License"). Such computer applications or systems incorporating the Classifications Software, may be licensed to users for commercial and non-commercial purposes. You are not granted the right to sell or license the Classifications Software as a standalone product. For the avoidance of any doubt the Classifications Software is not licensed under the Creative Commons license for the Classifications described in Section 1, above.
- 2.4. No modifications. You shall not modify, adapt, translate, reverse-engineer, decompile, disassemble, or otherwise attempt to discover the source code of the Classifications Software.
- 2.5. Retained Rights. Except as otherwise indicated herein, WHO owns and shall retain all right, title and interest in and to the Classifications Software, including all intellectual property rights embodied therein, including (i) all of the service marks, trademarks, trade names or any other designations associated with the Classifications Software; and (ii) all copyrights, patent rights, trade secret rights, and other proprietary rights relating to the Classifications Software. Nothing contained in this License shall be deemed to convey to you any title or ownership in the Classifications Software or any related documentation.
- 2.6. Technical limitations of Use. You shall not remove any WHO identification or notices of any proprietary, patent or copyright restrictions from the Classifications Software, or any support material such as the related documentation.

3. Terms related to third-party software in the Classifications Suite

- 3.1. Disclaimers for third-party software. You will be informed during the installation process if other third-party software is loaded together with the Classifications Software. In such cases, WHO makes no warranties whatsoever, and specifically disclaims any and all warranties, express or implied, that the third-party software is free of defects, virus free, able to operate on an uninterrupted basis, merchantable, fit for a particular purpose, accurate, non-infringing or appropriate for your technical system.
- 3.2. Third-party software user license(s) and use. To the extent you are required to enter into a user license for third-party software, WHO is not a party to any such license, and WHO therefore disclaims all liability, responsibility, and/or involvement with any such license. WHO shall not be held liable or responsible for either any breach of any of the terms and conditions of third-party software user licenses by you, or any damages arising from your use of third-party software.

- 3.3. No WHO endorsement of third-party software. The use of third-party software does not imply that they are endorsed or recommended by WHO in preference to others of a similar nature.

4. Other terms and conditions

- 4.1. No use of WHO name or emblem. You shall not (i) in connection with your use of the Classifications Suite or in any product marketing, promotional, or commercial activities, state or imply that WHO endorses or is affiliated with you or your use of the Classifications Suite, or that WHO endorses any entity, organization, company, or product; or (ii) use the name or emblem of WHO in any way. All requests to use the WHO name and/or emblem require advance written approval of WHO.
- 4.2. No trademark application. You shall not apply for any trademark or service mark registrations for a product name containing either the acronym or the full title of any Classifications.
- 4.3. No WHO warranties. WHO makes no warranty with respect to any part of the Classifications Suite, and disclaims all statutory or implied warranties, expressed or implied, as to the accuracy, completeness or usefulness of any information, apparatus, product, or process related thereto, including, without limitation, to any warranty of design or fitness for a particular purpose, even if WHO has been informed of such purpose. WHO does not represent that the use of the Classifications Suite would not infringe third parties' proprietary rights. WHO provides Classifications Suite "as is", and does not represent that the Classifications Suite is operational, free of defects, virus free, able to operate on an uninterrupted basis, or appropriate for your technical system.
- 4.4. Limitation of WHO's liability. WHO shall not be liable for any loss or damage arising directly or indirectly in connection with, or resulting from, your use of the Classifications Suite, and WHO expressly excludes liability for any indirect, special, incidental or consequential damages which may arise in respect of the Classifications Suite and its use, and the results thereof.
- 4.5. Your indemnification of WHO. You shall indemnify, hold harmless, and defend at your own expense WHO, its officers, agents, and employees from and against any claims, demands, causes of action, and liability of any nature or kind resulting from or relating to your use of the Classifications Suite.
- 4.6. Mentions of companies or products. Any mention of specific companies or of certain manufacturers' products does not imply that they are endorsed or recommended by WHO in preference to others of a similar nature that are not mentioned. Errors and omissions excepted, the names of proprietary products are distinguished by initial capital letters.
- 4.7. Term, termination. This Agreement shall remain in effect so long as you hold any copy of the ICD-11 Software on any of your computer systems or storage media. This Agreement, including the rights granted under it, shall terminate automatically upon any breach by you of any of its terms. Further, WHO may terminate this Agreement, including the rights granted under it, at any time, with immediate effect, for any reason, by written notice to you. This Agreement is the entire agreement between you and WHO with respect to its subject matter. This Agreement may only be amended by mutual written agreement of you and WHO. Upon termination of this License for any reason whatsoever, you shall immediately cease all use of the Classifications Software and destroy and/or remove all copies of the Classifications Software from your computer systems and storage media.

- 4.8. Assignment, amendment. You may not assign this Agreement without the prior written agreement of WHO (such agreement not to be unreasonably withheld). This Agreement may not be supplemented, modified, amended, released or discharged, unless approved in writing by WHO. WHO reserves the right to make changes and updates to this Agreement without prior notification. Such changes and updates shall be applied as of the date of their issuance. Any waiver by WHO of any default or breach hereunder shall not constitute a waiver of any provision of this Agreement or of any subsequent default or breach of the same or a different kind.
- 4.9. Interpretation. If any provision of this Agreement is invalid or unenforceable, it is to that extent to be deemed omitted. The remainder of the Agreement shall be valid and enforceable to the maximum extent possible. Paragraph headings in this Agreement are for reference only.
- 4.10. Dispute resolution. Any matter relating to the interpretation or application of this Agreement which is not covered by its terms shall be resolved by reference to Swiss law. Any dispute relating to the interpretation or application of this Agreement shall, unless amicably settled, be subject to conciliation. In the event of failure of the latter, the dispute shall be settled by arbitration. The arbitration shall be conducted in accordance with the modalities to be agreed upon by the parties or, in the absence of agreement, in accordance with the UNCITRAL Arbitration Rules. The parties shall accept the arbitral award as final.
- 4.11. No waiver of privileges and immunities. Nothing contained herein or in any license or terms of use related to the subject matter herein shall be construed as a waiver of any of the privileges and immunities enjoyed by the World Health Organization under national or international law, and/or as submitting the World Health Organization to any national court jurisdiction.
